Tech Launch Arizona Lunchtime Chat:
The How, When and Why of Invention Disclosures
with Bob Sleeper, Licensing Manager,
UA College of Engineering

March 23, 2016
12:00 - 1:00 PM

College of Engineering,
CE106

What is an “invention disclosure”? When do you initiate one, and what do YOU get out of bringing your invention to Tech Launch Arizona?

Find out at this informal discussion hosted by the College of Engineering and Tech Launch Arizona.

Bob Sleeper, TLA Licensing Manager for the College of Engineering, will talk about the process of disclosing inventions, and the importance of that process when it comes to publishing your research and how such publications affect your ability to patent your ideas.

Bob joined the UA after several years as an Intellectual Property Licensing Manager at Honeywell Aerospace where he was responsible for generating significant revenue through IP portfolio development and licensing large and small clients, worldwide.

Our time together will also focus primarily on your great questions and ideas, so come prepared to get advice from an expert.

A light lunch will be provided for all who RSVP in advance.

Bring your questions and join in the discussion!

RSVP @ http://bit.ly/lunchtimechat-3-23-16