Shark For A Day

An Interactive Workshop Where
YOU Evaluate Startups for Success

At this UA version of “Shark Tank,” you and your colleagues will be the sharks, learning a variety of quick-to-use tools and techniques to evaluate what makes an investment-ready startup.

Then, you’ll apply those ideas, listening to a pitch and scoring it on its potential for success.

Will the startup have teeth and be worthy of funding? Or will there be blood in the water?

Join the Tech Launch Arizona team of experts as we explore what makes for startup success and answer your questions after the frenzy.

Kevin McLaughlin, experienced technology entrepreneur and TLA mentor-in-residence, will lead this engaging, hands-on workshop.
